

ABSTRACT

A new and distinct variety of peach tree, named 'Weiser', originated as a limb sport on a 'Bellaire' tree. It is a midseason variety maturing five days after Loring and seven to 10 days after 'Bellaire'. The fruit has an attractive bright yellow-flesh, and is freestone, large sized, and flavorful. The surface of the fruit is uniformly attractive orange-red over a yellow background.